7th Annual FASD Matters Conference: The Brain

Presented by the Minnesota Organization on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome

November 7–9, 2018
Minneapolis Marriott NW, Brooklyn Park, Minnesota
Conference at a Glance

The Minnesota Organization on Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (MOFAS) is proud to present the 7th Annual FASD Matters Conference: The Brain. The conference will bring together experts, key stakeholders, and families. Over three days there will be a pre-conference, keynote presentations, and breakout sessions on the latest research, promising strategies, and innovative programs related to fetal alcohol spectrum disorders (FASD).

Not Only the Guilty Confess: Understanding the Complexity of False Confessions

Wednesday, Nov. 7, 2018 | 12:30 PM – 1:30 PM, Minnesota Ballroom | *Standard CLE Credits Applied For

Every year, innocent people sit in prison and some are on death row. A surprising number are there because they confessed to crimes that they did not commit. False confessions seem to go against common sense, yet they happen regularly. This session will explore why people confess to crimes they did not commit. We will delve into real-life high-profile false confessions. We will also explore how the brain injury associated with FASD and other related neurodevelopmental disabilities can increase vulnerability to false confessions.

Panelists:

Steve Kaplan is a litigator with the Fredrikson & Byron Law Firm in Minneapolis. For over 11 years he worked with a team of lawyers with the Innocence Project on the Damon Thibodeaux case.

Jonathan Krebs is a Hawkes Bay barrister in New Zealand. He is well known for his work in convincing the Privy Council to quash the murder conviction of Teina Pora.

Andrew Horne is an attorney in New York and he worked with a team of lawyers with the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) on the Max Soffar case.

Sixteen to a Life Sentence: A Case Study of Cyntoia Brown

Wednesday, Nov. 7, 2018 | 1:45 PM - 2:45 PM, Minnesota Ballroom | *Standard CLE Credits Applied For

Cyntoia Brown was convicted as a child for murdering a Nashville man, Johnny Allen, who picked her up for sex. She was convicted at age 16 more than a decade ago, and advocates for Brown say she was caught up in a sexual abuse and exploitation-to-prison pipeline. This session will be an in-depth case study and will explore the case with a lens towards intersectionality between issues of race, substance use disorders, disability, human trafficking, and the criminal justice system.

Panelists:

The Honorable Sheila Calloway was elected Juvenile Court Judge in August 2014. She also serves as Adjunct Professor at Vanderbilt University in the Undergraduate and Law School. Judge Calloway has highlighted Brown's case as one that demonstrates the need for juvenile justice reform.

Kathryn Sinback serves as the Court Administrator for the Juvenile Court in Metropolitan Nashville and Davidson County. She was as a public defender representing juveniles in delinquency cases and specialized in juvenile transfer litigations. She served as Brown's lawyer in Juvenile Court.

Thomas Castelli is Legal Director for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) of Tennessee. Prior to joining ACLU, he provided litigation counsel to individuals and businesses in a variety of areas of the law. He is one of the authors of the ACLU Amicus Brief developed in support of Brown.

The Color of FASD: From Historical Trauma to Healing Justice & Beyond

Wednesday, Nov. 7, 2018 | 2:45 PM - 4:00 PM, Minnesota Ballroom | *Elimination of Bias CLE Credits Applied For

This session will use an equity lens and will focus on how issues of race, disability, historical trauma, and the courts can intersect for youth and young adults coming into contact with the criminal justice system. This session will explore the root causes and consequences of historical trauma, how we treat youth in our justice system, what are the alternatives, and why healing on the individual and collective level are so important.

Panelists:

Shakti Butler is a filmmaker and founder and President of World Trust Educational Services. Most recently, she has served as a diversity consultant and advisor on the Disney animated film, “Zootopia”, which focuses on the challenging of bias and systemic inequity. Her current film project, Healing Justice: Cultivating a World of Belonging, is intended to popularize a national conversation about justice, responsibility, and healing.

Samuel Simmons is a nationally renowned speaker on issues of historical trauma, systemic racism, and adverse childhood experiences. He has worked for over 27 years as a behavioral consultant specializing in practical culturally sensitive trauma-informed work with African American males and their families. He developed a culturally-specific trauma-informed curriculum that engages African American males to promote healthy relationships to end violence against women and girls.

The Building Blocks of Developing FASD-Informed Courts

Wednesday, Nov. 7, 2018 | 4:15 PM - 5:00 PM, Minnesota Ballroom | *Elimination of Bias CLE Credits Applied For

The Honorable Michael Jeffery is a retired Superior Court Judge in the Second Judicial District in Barrow, Alaska. He spent decades in Alaska’s courts working to find solutions that worked for individuals, including those with an FASD.
Pre-Conference Film Screening

Healing Justice

Wednesday, November 7, 2018
6:30 PM - 8:30 PM,
Elm Creek Ampitheatre

Moderated by Dr. Shakti Butler
*Standard CLE Applied For

Join us for an evening with award-winning filmmaker Shakti Butler. Shakti is the founder and president of World Trust Educational Services. Most recently, she served as diversity consultant and advisor on the Disney animated film, “Zootopia.” The film grossed over $1 Billion worldwide and garnered many awards including Best Animated Feature at the 89th Academy Awards.

Her current film project, “Healing Justice”, explores the causes and consequences of the current North American justice system and its effect on marginalized communities. The film brings into focus histories of trauma and addresses the school-to-prison pipeline, the need for comprehensive criminal justice reform, and the importance of healing and restorative practices.

The conference is designed to meet the continuing education hours credits for many disciplines: psychology, social work, education, nursing, marriage and family therapy, behavioral health, licensed alcohol and drug counselors, and attorneys. The number of credit hours available vary by discipline. Certificates of attendance will be available to all conference participants.

MOFAS is an approved provider for the Minnesota Board for Social Workers. MOFAS has applied for continuing education credits through the Minnesota Board of Continuing Legal Education, the Minnesota Board of Psychology, and the Minnesota Board of Behavioral Health and Therapy.

A Chance To Win

Thanks to our generous sponsors, Highland Federal Finance, JM Coaching LLC, and the Minneapolis Marriott NW, we have several prizes to give away. Prize giveaways will include standard drawings for prizes, and also a chance to tweet to win! Winners will be announced at the closing keynote lunch session.

Twitter Contest

Stay plugged into the conversation during the pre-conference, the conference, and beyond via Twitter. Complimentary Wi-Fi is available in the meeting space using MOFAS18. Please use the hashtag #FASDmatters and tag @MOFAS_049 to pose questions to attendees and panelists, share quotes from sessions, and network.

Winners will be recognized at the closing keynote session on Friday, November 9, 2018, at 12:30 PM in the Northland Ballroom. To be considered for the following categories, participants must submit entries via Twitter using #FASDmatters @MOFAS_049 by 11:00 AM on Friday, November 9, 2018.

Best quote: this will go to the person with the best quote captured and tweeted from the breakout sessions or keynotes. (Prize: Free voucher to the 2019 FASD matters conference)

Most retweets: this will go to the person that receives the most retweets throughout the conference. (Prize: Complimentary one-night stay at the Minneapolis Marriott NW)

Best photo: this will go to the person with the best photo from the 7th annual FASD matters conference. Get creative, but keep it appropriate. (Prize: MOFAS t-shirt)

FASD Research Update: Brain Imaging and the Development of Smart Interventions

Jeff Wozniak, PhD
Thursday, Nov. 8, 2018
8:30 AM – 10:15 AM
Northland Ballroom

Dr. Wozniak will present recent insights from MRI brain imaging studies in FASD, including findings related to brain structure and function. These findings will be discussed within the context of new interventions that are being developed based on basic science and imaging studies. Dr. Wozniak’s talk will draw on years of experience conducting studies at the University of Minnesota as well as his connections to the international FASD research community. Dr. Wozniak runs the Child and Adolescent Neuropsychology Clinic in the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Minnesota.

FASD Research Update: Diagnosing FASD: Man vs. Machine

Omar Rahman, MD
Friday, Nov. 9, 2018
8:30 AM – 9:30 AM
Northland Ballroom

Over 40 years ago the first diagnosis of fetal alcohol syndrome was made in the U.S. We have come a long way in our understanding and research related to FASD. As research develops and technology advances, we are entering a new frontier of access to advanced technological developments. Will the future of FASD diagnosis be found in technologically aided recognition? Are computers and smart phones the next frontier? Dr. Rahman is exploring these questions with new technology designed to use facial recognition technology to identify FASD and other genetic conditions. This presentation will provide a brief historical overview of the diagnostic criteria and explore technological applications for diagnosis and research studies.

When You Walk With Purpose: You Collide with Destiny

Bertice Berry, PhD
Thursday, Nov. 8, 2018
12:30 PM – 1:45 PM
Northland Ballroom

Twenty-five years ago Dr. Berry’s life was going just as she had planned it. She had defied the odds and earned her Ph.D. from Kent State University and became a professor at the institution. Her life’s dreams were just being realized as she had just gotten her own nationally syndicated television show where she was both host and executive producer. One phone call changed everything when her mother reached out, urging her to take in her sister’s children that had been born with brain injuries related to prenatal alcohol exposure and were in danger of going into foster care. Join us for Dr. Berry’s amazing story of defying the odds and finding your purpose in the midst of life’s challenges.

Becoming Ms. Burton

Susan Burton
Friday, Nov. 9, 2018
12:30 PM – 1:30 PM
Northland Ballroom

*Standard CLE Applied For

Susan Burton is the founder and executive director of a New Way of Life Re-Entry Project and the critically acclaimed author of “Becoming Ms. Burton.” Winner of the prestigious NAACP Image Award, she will share a uniquely American story of trauma, incarceration, and the breathtaking resilience of the human spirit. She will talk about her life and work as part of this keynote event and will recount her real life struggles, trauma, incarceration, and her challenges in overcoming alcohol and substance use disorders. She will share her journey of rebuilding her life and turning her attention to help others in the Watts, Los Angeles neighborhood that she grew up in.
Health & Research Track

a1. Historical Trauma in the African American Community
Sam Simmons, LADC
Minnesota Salon 1

This training will increase awareness of the link between historical and intergenerational trauma, and explore challenges to effectively engage the African American community. It will include foundational information about Adverse Childhood Experiences and address the impact of toxic stress on the brain and why culturally sensitive prevention is the most caring strategy we can do collectively and individually.

b1. Diagnosing FASD in the Foster Care System
Kimara Gustafson, MD & Mary Jo Spencer, CPNP MPH
Minnesota Salon 1

Minnesota became the first state in the nation to require foster parent training on FASD. This requirement has raised awareness of prenatal alcohol exposure. With increased awareness, more foster families are seeking diagnostic services in spite of the challenges and barriers often faced. This session will explore the complexity of the diagnostic process in the foster care system.

Family Track

a2. Understanding Guardianship
Nate Gurol, JD
Lake Michigan, *Standard CLE Credits Applied For

Life is full of challenges when raising children. There can be special considerations when raising a child on the spectrum. For some individuals there may be need to develop a tailored guardianship plan that preserves the individual's ability to make decisions which are within his or her comprehension and judgment. This session will provide an overview of guardianship and considerations for families.

b2. Navigating the Alphabet Soup of County Services
Joan Gabriel
Minnesota Salon 2

Navigating county services can be confusing for families. It can feel like negotiating within a maze. The acronyms and bureaucratic names can be a barrier to families accessing services they are eligible to receive. For over the past two years Hennepin County has been working with MOFAS to ensure that residents understand how to negotiate the maze of available benefits. This session is designed to help support families understand the broad scope of supportive county services available.

Prevention Track

a3. Circle of Hope Birth Mother Panel: Transforming Stigma Into Strength
Moderator: Tiffany Morgan; Panelists: Carol Peterson, Angel Richmond, Sharon Rogers, & Denise Silvers
Elm Creek Amphitheatre

The prevention of prenatal alcohol exposure and FASD is a complicated public health issue. Unplanned pregnancies, alcohol use disorders, and misinformation from providers all contribute to the challenge. This deeply personal session will explore the journey of four mothers with children on the spectrum who share their diverse personal stories as they transform stigma into strength through raising awareness of the risks associated with prenatal alcohol exposure.

Lizzi Kampf Janssen, LICSW
Lake Michigan

Nearly half of all pregnancies in the U.S. are unintended. Unplanned pregnancies are a complex public health issue that can lead to poor maternal child health outcomes. One of the priority goals of Healthy People 2020 is to reduce the rate of unintended pregnancies. This session will explore best practices in patient counseling and education in order to reduce the rate of unintended pregnancies.

Justice & Equity Track

a4. Nothing About Us Without Us: Young Adult Panel
Emmanuel Heard, Jennifer Noreña de Puente, & Rebecca Tillou
Minnesota Salon 2

"Nihil de nobis, sine nobis" or "Nothing About Us Without Us," is a mantra used to communicate the idea that no policy should be decided by any representative without meaningful and full direct participation of members affected by that policy. In this session, three young adults will share their stories and will share in their own words the services, policies, and opportunities they believe are important for the field to consider.

b4. FASD & Mitigation in Capital Cases: Lessons Learned from Brandy Holmes
Andrew Horne, JD
Elm Creek Amphitheatre, *Standard CLE Credits Applied For

In 2003, Brandy Holmes and her boyfriend knocked on the door of Julian Brandon, Jr. and his wife Alice. Brandy and her boyfriend forced their way in and murdered the couple. After being sentenced to death, Brandy appealed arguing that her diagnosis of FAS should have been considered in her sentencing. The case ultimately went to the U.S. Supreme Court. Andrew Horne filed an amicus brief on the issue on behalf of Brandy and will delve into a case study of Brandy Holmes during this session.
c1. FASD & Secondary Traumatic Stress
Corrie Reil-Erickson & Mark Sloane, MD
Elm Creek Ampitheatre
Histories of trauma can be common for children with an FASD. For professionals providing care for families and children with an FASD and a history of trauma, there can be elevated risks for emotional stress and burn out. This session will outline the principles and underpinnings of secondary traumatic stress (STS) and its impact on the workforce. It will also explore strategies for organizations to implement to establish safe places for staff to process and work through the impact of STS.

c2. Practical Parenting Tools to Calm an Intense Brain
Samantha Moe, MA, SLP
Minnesota Salon 1
Are you exhausted from parenting an explosive child? Are you feeling like you are walking on eggshells to avoid emotional outbursts, which strain relationships, marriage, and health? During this interactive workshop, participants will discover the “3c’s” essential to calm intense behavior from the Mad2Glad Blueprint. Rooted in neuroscience, come learn practical parenting strategies that are proved to create more peace and calm.

c3. Preventing Alcohol-Exposed Pregnancies for Women in Recovery
Caitlin Callahan, Ruthie Dallas, & Jessie Everts, PhD, LMFT
Minnesota Salon 2
Minnesota has invested in an innovative intensive case management program that wraps comprehensive services around families in recovery with the goal of reducing the number of babies born in Minnesota with histories of prenatal alcohol exposure. This session will provide an overview of the innovative program, share program outcomes, and also explore challenges and opportunities to support families in recovery.

c4. Disabling Discipline: Addressing Disparities in the Educational System
Amy Goetz, JD & Andrea Jepsen, JD
Lake Michigan, *Standard CLE Credits Applied For
Youth with disabilities are suspended at the highest rates in our schools for low-level non-violent offenses that create a school-to-prison pipeline. When looking at black youth with disabilities, the disparate rates are even greater as black students are suspended more often than their white peers. This session will explore these issues and the importance of representation of families to disrupt the school-to-prison pipeline.
Networking Reception

Northland Ballroom
Thursday, November 8, 2018
4:45 PM – 6:00 PM

Come join us for a complimentary networking reception in the Northland Ballroom on Thursday evening. It will be a chance to connect with old friends and make new connections. Stop by our photo booth to connect with youth and young adults and have your photo taken. Heavy appetizers will be served.
